SPEAKER SERIES

Social Media Safety

with Angela Alvarado
District Attorney's Office, Santa Clara County

November 27, 2017 • 7pm

Teens rely on social media to communicate with each other and it's constantly running in the background of life. This platform can be used to enhance their world, as a sword to inflict pain, or for predators to gain access to your family. The increased presence of youth online has raised serious concerns about the safety of Internet and social media use. We must continually educate ourselves to navigate through this virtual world and be aware of how we are using, or misusing, this technology. Come and learn more with us.
